

Managed Litigation Services

e-Stet Launches Cloud-based Managed Litigation Services Aimed Directly at Legal Professionals

In addition to traditional litigation technology and e-discovery services, e-Stet now provides clients access to a cloud-based infrastructure.

LOS ANGELES – NOVEMBER 29, 2011 – e-Stet, a specialized provider of electronic litigation technology services, today announces the addition of Managed Litigation Services to its service offerings. Managed Litigation Services provides law firms, corporate legal departments and legal vendors full control of their litigation software of choice, over the web, hosted in a Tier 1 SAAE-16 infrastructure.

“Legal professionals find themselves increasingly challenged with managing litigation technology infrastructures internally,” stated Salim Elkhou, founder and CEO of e-Stet. “We are now bringing the management of these offerings to the cloud for our clients, relieving them of IT support and staffing burdens, so they can focus on their core capabilities – providing legal advice to their clients and managing case workflow.”

Managed Litigation Services brings a client’s complete hardware and software infrastructure into the cloud. Under this service offering, e-Stet remains software agnostic, allowing the client to dictate its preferred software suites and hardware configurations. Managed Litigation Services comes with a dedicated Tier 1 setup. Full redundancy and disaster recovery mechanisms are standard. Litigation and discovery data remain fully accessible by the client, but will be fully managed by e-Stet’s team of trained professionals.

“e-Stet has been offering a cloud-based solution to other legal technology firms for over a year now. The natural extension for us is to provide that same service to our law firm and corporate clients. As the cloud becomes increasingly accepted by law firms and corporations, we understand that it is absolutely critical to our clients that we provide appropriate solutions,” continued Elkhou. “e-Stet is one of the very few companies delivering a viable solution aimed at efficiency and cost-effectiveness for the legal market.”

About e-Stet

e-Stet is a full-service provider of litigation technology services. Founded in 2007, the company offers comprehensive solutions including hosted electronic discovery review, managed technology infrastructure, mobile data collections, mobile processing, defensibility consulting, backup tape restoration and artificial intelligence coding. By employing a staff of computer scientists and engineers, e-Stet provides its clients high-level technology support in the legal office.

Contacts

Felix Alonso	Carolyn Depko
e-Stet	Edge Legal Marketing
P: 1.888.80E-STET	P: 1.732.533.5491
E: info@e-Stet.com	E: cdepko@EdgeLegalMarketing.com